

IN MEMORIAM

A TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF THE LATE SWEDE DAHLBERG, A MAN WHOM I
ADMIRER FOR HIS SPORTSMANSHIP AND CHERISHED AS A FRIEND

*"There's sadness in the Bulldogs' ranks that will last for many a day ;
There's sorrow in each player's heart for the boss has been called away.
The boys on his team have lost a friend——
A wonderful pal was he ;
Kind and gentle, he loved his boys
And we cherish his memory.
He backed our team with faith and trust and wagered
his boys would win.
But if the "Purples" were on the losing end,
He met defeat with a grin.
He shared with the the poor his worldly goods,
He never refused a plea, that would bring some joy to some poor soul,
And his motto was charity.
I have heard it said in the Book of Life,
It is written where all may see ;
That of all the virtues a man may have
The greatest is Charity.*
